FIRE HAZARD RATING SIGNS WILL BE ERECTED

Throughout British Columbia this summer, motorists will be reminded of the dangers of forest fires by these new, brightly-colored forest fire hazard rating signs currently being erected at some 60 ranger stations.

In the province, the indicator on the sign will be adjusted as required by the ranger staffs as a method of impressing passing motorists with the existing hazard in the woods and the need for care with fire. THE 1959 FIRE SEASON officially started Friday, after which permits are required for any fires within one-half mile of a wooded area. Last year there were 4,120 forest fires in B.C., costing the forest service $7,600,000 to control. More than 2,000,000 acres were burned over. Human carelessness accounted for 2,400 fires last year.—(B.C. Forest Service photograph.)

MONDAY'S PAPER WILL ALSO CARRY COINWORD PUZZLE

Owing to the demand for extra copies of yesterday's paper, carrying the Coinword puzzle, it has been decided to run the same puzzle in Monday's paper.

This will be the last Coinword contest, and should there be more than one correct answer—or the same number of mistakes—the money will be divided. Jackpot for the final contest is $900. Extra copies of Monday's Courier may be purchased through carrier boys, street salesmen, local dealers, or from The Courier office.

Contestants may submit as many entries as they wish . . . but remember the money is doubled, providing there is a sales slip from one of the sponsoring merchants.

Ship's Captain Is Critical Over Delay In Rescue

VANCOUVER (CP)—The captain of the battle-scarred Norwegian freighter Fergulf, his ship wrecked by an explosion and fire in which six of the 38 crew members aboard were injured, was bitterly critical today of confusion and delay in rescue efforts.

The ship, sunk twice by the Germans during the Second World War and later refloated, burst into an inferno of burning oil at the entrance to Vancouver harbor Friday.

Two of the six injured crew members lay in hospital today in critical condition. Three others were in fair condition and another was released from hospital after treatment for minor injuries.

The ship was in drydock where she was towed after 20 volunteer firefighters from two Canadian Navy vessels and the United States Navy submarine Capitaine had extinguished the flames that ravaged the Fergulf's midships section.

Capt. William Archer of the Fergulf assailed Vancouver authorities for delay in getting aid to the stricken craft. "I sent an SOS for a fireboat and doctors as soon as the explosion occurred and we were told by the city that we were outside limits," he said.

"There were more than an hour later, we were told a fireboat and a doctor were coming. We never saw a fireboat and a helicopter which came circled but did not land."

HOOR TO RETURN

The harbor fireboat was not sent out because if a serious waterfront blaze broke out it would take an hour to get back into the harbor," he said.

The 7,500-ton freighter, out of Oslo, was rocked by an explosion as she steamed out of the harbor at 4:25 p. m. PDT, bound for the nearby Fraser River port of New Westminster to pick up the remainder of a cargo of lumber for the Atlantic seaboard.

Seconds later, burning oil poured from a ruptured bunker tank that held some of the Fergulf's 4,000 tons of fuel. Four crew members in the engine room survived the sweeping tide of oil and were rushed ashore. In hospital today, chief engineer.

Over-All Tariff Protection About Same, Claims Stephens

PENTICTON (CP)—A fruit industry expert said Friday the tariff changes announced by Finance Minister Fleming in his budget speech mean that the over-all protection afforded to Canadian fruit growers will remain virtually at the same level as last year.

Chairman L. R. Stephens of the Canadian Horticultural Council tariff committee said in an interview the changes mean "a little rain and a little sunshine" for both Canadian and U.S. growers.

(When the changes were first announced, Mr. Stephens, in an interview with The Daily Courier, said the fruit industry had obtained almost everything requested by the Horticultural Society.)

Except for the lack of an increase in fresh peach duties and a cut in apple tariff the changes are of benefit to Canadian fruit growers, he said. But he said the advantages to Canadian exporters are offset by equal concessions to U.S. growers.

A survey based on figures for 1957-58 show that Canadian and U.S. fruit and vegetable growers have both gained and lost to the extent of $1,000,000 a year. Mr. Stephens, an official of Okanagan Federated Shippers at Kelowna, said the reduction in the apple tariff to one-quarter from three-eighths of a cent will mean a $65,000 concession to the U.S. based on last year's import figures.

On the other hand, the year-round extension of the apple tariff figure to eliminate a 10-week duty free period would mean a $15,000 increase in tariff on U.S. imports.

The increase in tariffs on apricots, sour cherries, peaches, pears and plums resulting from raised rates or extended periods of application would amount to some $65,000 in extra charges. Concessions on strawberries, pears and plums would mean a $84,000 benefit to the U.S.

The changes in tariffs on frozen cherries and canned peaches, apricots, cherries and plums represent and additional $123,000 worth of protection to Canadian growers, he said.

After a full day of testimony, the preliminary hearing against Tony Toi Wong, 22, was adjourned yesterday until Monday morning. Wong is charged with criminal negligence resulting in death.

Charge arose from the death of five-year-old Hilda Sommerfeld, who succumbed to injuries alleged to have been caused when struck by a car driven by Wong near Osprey Park April 4.

One of yesterday afternoon's witnesses, Const. John Urquhart of the RCMP highway patrol, testified that the auto driven by Wong had skidded a total of 190 feet and spun around nearly 90 degrees.

Testimony did not agree on the path taken by the car before it came to rest in the ditch. Earlier in the day, a companion of Wong invoked the protection of the Canada Evidence Act before giving part of his testimony.

Crown prosecutor is Brian Weddell, Norman Mullins is defending Wong.

LONDON (Reuters)—Separated Siamese twins Timothy and Jeremy Thackeray today celebrated their first birthday. They were separated in a 10-hour operation March 23.

At the fall assizes last November, Konkin, his brother, Alex, 28, and three other men were charged as a result of a wave of bombings and attempted bombings in the Okanagan last summer.

Alex Konkin was convicted and sentenced to two years, while the jury failed to reach a verdict on Sam Konkin and a new trial was ordered. The three other men were freed as soon as the crown finished its case.

The crown's case in the retrial is expected to be concluded Monday. Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson is presiding at the spring assizes.

Hatches Blown Straight Up, Says Witness

VANCOUVER (CP)—"The hatches were blown straight up and the staterooms were smashed into two parts like boxes. I still don't see how some of them escaped alive."

Chief Petty Officer J. L. Scrimager of San Diego gave this description of the stricken Norwegian freighter Fergulf Friday night after emerging from her fire-ravaged hull with a crew of 20 navy firefighters.

He led a group of men from the United States submarine Capitaine who helped firefighters from HMCS Sageunay and HMCS Assiniboine control the blazing inferno which started after an explosion rocked the Fergulf's engine-room just outside Vancouver Harbor.

The 20 men, wearing gas masks and asbestos suits, were led by Cmdr. K. E. Lewis, Canadian squadron technical officer. They fought the fire for hours despite the danger of the fire reaching 400 tons of fuel in the ship's main storage tanks and touching off a tremendous explosion.

Cmdr. Lewis paid warm tribute to the American submarine crew members. "They happened to be tied up nearby," he said. "We told them there had been an explosion and within five minutes they had turned out a completely-equipped team of rescue experts."

An ambulance was taking the man to hospital when a child threw a rock into the vehicle, shattering the glass partition between the cab and body of the ambulance, showering glass fragments over the badly burned crew member and driver L. G. Sheward, manager of Richmond Ambulance Ltd.

The burned man was covered with blankets and was not hurt by the glass.

IN BLOODLESS REVOLT

Revolutionaries Lay Down Arms Kiss Girls Goodbye . . . Head For Sea

By RONALD BATCHELOR
NOMBRE DE DIOS, Panama (Reuters)—Bearded Cuban revolutionaries laid down their arms, kissed the girls goodbye in this "liberated" village and chugged away into the setting sun to end Panama's abortive revolt.

They left behind Friday a trail of cheers and tears from the inhabitants of this straw-thatched village they sought to liberate from the Panamanian government when they arrived from Cuba.

The Cubans surrendered unconditionally Friday after the shotless, bloodless revolt, then boarded landing vessels to take them away.

The final farewell turned into an emotional fiesta on the beaches of Nombre de Dios, once a haunt of pirates.

FIVE REFUSE

Five adventurers refused to follow their leader at the last moment and took to the hills. Later they were rounded up.

By the time the first of two landing craft thrust its blunt nose shorewards the revolutionaries had neatly stacked their arms in the local post office and were waiting to leave.

Many villagers hugged, kissed and shook hands with the Cubans and girls clung to their "liberators." Some refused to be parted and left with them aboard the landing barges. As the barges pulled away the Cubans sang "Sierra Maestra" the song of Cuban leader Fidel Castro's revolutionary army—and the tune was taken up by villagers gathered on the beach.

LIFT THE GIRLS

Some of the departing Cubans lifted girls above the bulwarks of the barges to give them a last look at home.

As a parting shot the invaders, now technically prisoners of the Panamanian authorities, yelled "Viva Panama."

Panamanian National Guard troops disembarked from their vessel and minutes later the Panamanian flag flew once again atop the white flagpole in the village square.

CUBANS THOUGHT PANAMA RULED BY DICTATOR

By LUIS NOLI
PANAMA CITY (AP)—Cuban invaders of Panama who surrendered without firing a shot arrived in the capital as captives during the night in eight heavily guarded buses.

Informed sources said Fidel Castro's Cuban Embassy may seek leniency for the small band who threw themselves on the mercy of the Panamanian courts in laying down their arms.

Hundreds of curious Panamanians silently watched the 87 prisoners—one a woman—marched into jail.

They will be questioned before the government decides what to do with them.

The bedraggled band of revolutionists said today they came to Panama on being told the country was ruled by a dictatorship—but we were wrong.

Liquor Prices Won't Be Cut, Says Bonner

VICTORIA (CP)—Attorney-General Robert Bonner today indicated B.C. will not follow Ontario's decision to cut back recent increases in liquor prices.

Ontario, like B.C., boosted prices on Canadian spirits by 20 cents a bottle following federal tax increases in the national budget. Friday it lowered the prices by five cents.

Today, Mr. Bonner said the B.C. prices were raised only "after a detailed and accurate calculation" of the tax situation. Ontario raised prices immediately after the budget announcement.

"We've tried to keep the increase as modest as possible and I don't anticipate that the Liquor Control Board will make any variations now," he said.

Fishermen Plan Continue Trip Despite Ordeal

CLO-OOSE, B.C. (CP)—Two United States fishermen who spent nine days adrift in a powerless troller on the stormy Pacific still plan to complete their fishing trip down the Washington coast when their 36-foot boat is refloated and refitted.

Bob Maddern, 40, owner of the troller Thorold, and Bob Turner, 46, both of Aberdeen Wash., said Friday they haven't changed their plans despite their ordeal.

They are being cared for by their rescuers at this west coast of Vancouver Island Indian fishing community. They plan to go to nearby Neah Bay with the troller Saturday or Sunday after it has been hauled off the sandy beach where it was grounded Thursday.

U.S. Delays Space Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has postponed three important space shots—two aimed at Venus and an earth satellite to swing as high as 30,000 miles.

Engineering difficulties in both the payload and boost vehicle system was the only reason given Friday for the delay by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Konkin Case May Conclude Next Monday

Crown evidence similar to that presented last November was placed before the judge and jury at Vernon yesterday in the retrial of Sam Konkin, 28, on bombing charges.

At the fall assizes last November, Konkin, his brother, Alex, 28, and three other men were charged as a result of a wave of bombings and attempted bombings in the Okanagan last summer.

Alex Konkin was convicted and sentenced to two years, while the jury failed to reach a verdict on Sam Konkin and a new trial was ordered. The three other men were freed as soon as the crown finished its case.

Protection Needed Against Distressed U.S. Fruit Selling

On Monday last there was an important meeting in Ottawa, important, that is, to the Okanagan and the other fruit and vegetable growing areas of this country. Executives of the Canadian Horticultural Council met with Prime Minister Diefenbaker and cabinet members to discuss the issue of fair value for duty on fruit and vegetable imports from the United States. Currently there is no protection for Canadian producers against distress selling of American fruits and vegetables.

Changes made recently in the budget affect only specific duties, some of which were lowered and more raised. These are effective when U.S. prices are normal, but the tariff drops proportionately when the prices drop reducing the protection to a minimum.

The history of protection for Canadian fruit and vegetable growers reached a high peak between 1929 and 1935 when fair value for duty was applied as well as protective specific duties. After 1935 tariffs were whittled away until they were virtually abolished in 1948 under GATT (General Agreement on Tariff and Trade).

The kind of competition coming in from the U.S. does not fall easily into the "dumping" category of GATT. This international agreement includes an escape clause which allows prohibitive tariffs to be levied against goods which are being dumped in another country at prices below costs of production plus a reasonable profit margin. The U.S. imports fall into the category of "distress selling."

Their effect on Canadian producers is doubly severe because the more American fruits and vegetables selling at low quotations hit the Canadian market just as domestic products are going out for sale.

This means the Canadian farmers have to compete with low American prices at the very time when, because of quality, freshness and so forth, their own products should be reaching the best prices of the season.

The U.S. producers can afford to sell low because their own season starts several weeks before the Canadian and what they will have to sell will be the tag-end of their production.

The council is asking for proclamation of paragraph "B", sub-section 7 of section 40A of the revised Customs Act of last year. The revisions of the customs act allow the revenue minister to set protective duties against all imported commodities except fruits and vegetables. The section applying to fruits and vegetables only comes into effect when proclaimed, and this hasn't been done.

If the council is successful in its bid to have that section proclaimed this isn't going to provide across-the-board high-tariff protection for Canadian fruit and vegetable growers.

It would only be applied when there was an instance of definite need, for instance if there was a heavy U.S. peach crop and their prices in Canada slumped far below the previous three-year average. The special protective duties would be applied by the revenue minister at the request of the horticultural council and would go into effect only for the minimum number of weeks necessary to clear the situation.

Application for fair value for duty (in effect applying duty on the normal price of the commodity and not whatever the price might be) would be the last loophole needed to stabilize the market for Canadian producers. The budget changes in specific duties provide protection against normal seasonal competition.

A hurdle still to be cleared in applying that section of the customs act would be whether it would be necessary to negotiate the changes under GATT. If this were done then concessions to the U.S. would be necessary. One concession mooted would be in the areas of non-competitive U.S. fruit imports such as melons, citrus and grapefruit.

The producers' requests are not unreasonable. Ottawa should lend a sympathetic ear and, more, take the action necessary to put the Canadian producer into a reasonably competitive position with the imported fruits and vegetables. Such action should mean much to Canadian growers.

Seaway's First Foreign Ship Making History This Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Less than 400 miles east of the Prairies, a Greek vessel will berth this weekend and take on 8,500 tons of prairie grain.

When the Panagiotis L. steams into Port Arthur, it won't be the first foreign-flag ship to dock at the Lakehead. But it will add its mark to the lengthening string of Chicago celebrated its seaway first Thursday. Aerial bombs and shell whistles saluted the arrival of the Frins William Frisco, first vessel to make the 800-mile run through the waterway to Chicago.

Later in the day the first American flag ship to reach Chicago—the Santa Regina—arrived at the Lake Michigan port. She did not come into the harbor because of a dispute over who should pilot her in.

Dr. Ryndard spoke of Finance Minister Fleming's increase of the excise tax on cigarettes by two cents a package.

"I am not sure that this increase should not have been greater," declared the doctor, "because that would serve as an added deterrent." He was, of course, speaking medically and not physically. He was not advocating higher taxes as such.

OTTAWA REPORT

Women Should Smoke Cigars

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

An unwritten headline was the most newsworthy item in an otherwise undistinguished budget debate.

"Women should only smoke cigars."

That sensational advice was the headline news which, although unreported and although unspoken in those words, lay behind the deeply thoughtful speech delivered by Dr. P. E. Ryndard, the popular surgeon and physician who represents Orillia in our House of Commons.

Dr. Ryndard spoke of Finance Minister Fleming's increase of the excise tax on cigarettes by two cents a package.

"I am not sure that this increase should not have been greater," declared the doctor, "because that would serve as an added deterrent." He was, of course, speaking medically and not physically. He was not advocating higher taxes as such.

The clue, which few of his listeners picked up, was that word "deterrent." As a doctor, he explained to me afterwards, he would welcome any step which would deter Canadians from cutting short their lives by heavy smoking of cigarettes.

CANCER FACTOR

Tobacco, he explained to me, burns with the greatest heat when in contact with paper, such as a cigarette wrapper. This heat is probably intensified by the salt-petre or other ingredient with which the wrapper is impregnated to keep it smouldering. When tobacco burns at such a high temperature, the heat creates a dangerous rosin, which is a cancer-producing factor.

The danger lies in the temperature at which the tobacco is burned; it has nothing to do with the temperature at which the tobacco smoke enters the human body, so the use of a long cigarette holder—which cools the smoke—does not eliminate the danger. Some filters may reduce the quantity of the carcinogenic rosin which is carried into the body by the smoke.

Not being in contact with paper, tobacco burns at a lower temperature when packed into a pipe or rolled into a cigar. This does not create the killing rosin, so medical circles believe that pipe-smokers and cigar addicts do not contract lung cancer from the factor which kills so many cigarette smokers.

Dr. Ryndard, who smokes only the occasional cigar himself, told me that the proportion of deaths from lung cancer is rising, especially among women who are becoming as heavy cigarette smokers as men.

to be written between the lines, although not spelled out, in the doctor's speech was simply this: there is no need to cut out tobacco, but it would be prudent to switch from cigarette to pipes or cigars.

More dramatically, his message is this: "Women should only smoke cigars."

THE WISE DUTCH GIRLS

Now before even the most charmingly feminine of the doctor's pretty lady supporters in Orillia shudders at this advice—free to you, but well worth the five bucks which a visit to your doctor would cost—let us think of the mild little, cigarillos, or cigarette sized-cigars, which are already so popular in the United States. Let us think of the women of the Netherlands, who have so long wisely been cigar smokers.

And above all, let us think of the women, and the men, who perhaps first noticed a persistent cold, then perhaps appeared to be suffering from virus pneumonia, and finally learn too late that they have come face to face with that merciless and painful killer, cancer of the lung.

There is as yet no scientific data concerning the extent of the danger of cigarette, any more than there is about those similar carcinogenes, diesel oil fumes and industrial chemical fumes. Nor is there a fixed danger level in cigarette smoking which applies equally to every person; some are more susceptible than others, some are fortunately entirely immune.

But the message was there, a red flag in the middle of that unexpected scene, a budget debate. "If even one Canadian saves his life after reading my speech, I shall be happy that I spoke those words," Doctor Ryndard told me.

Fifty Years Of Service

Fifty years of service to Canadians will be celebrated by the St. John Ambulance Brigade early in May.

The golden anniversary will be marked Sunday, May 3, at London, Ontario, where the first division of the Brigade was formed in 1909. Special commemoration services will be held and a St. John national conference will meet on Saturday and Sunday.

The formation of the first division of the St. John Brigade in Canada grew out of emergency treatment of an injury. In 1907 a London men's church group was playing handball when one of its members received a serious injury. He was given first aid by another member who had taken St. John first aid training in England. Other members expressed interest in the fact that a layman could give on-the-spot help to an injured person and first aid classes were started for the group. In 1909 the No. 1 London (Forest City) Ambulance Division was formed. The church group member who gave the first aid, William Loveday, is still living and has been active in the division throughout its 50-year history.

The St. John Ambulance Brigade today in Canada has 362 divisions with 8,200 volunteer members trained to help the sick and injured. Brigade members serve without pay at sporting events, exhibitions, clinics, hospitals and wherever crowds gather. Last year they gave over 500,000 hours of public service. In one recent year Brigade members treated 4,500 sick and injured people at the country's four biggest fairs.

The Brigade has a continuous training program to maintain its efficiency so that members will be ready to meet any emergency in which trained, disciplined body of men and women with a knowledge of first aid is needed. Women members know home nursing as well as first aid.

In time of emergency the Brigade has proved its value. Outstanding service over the past few years has been given at both Springhill Mine Disasters (where members were on hand minutes after the accidents), at the B.C. floods, the Cabano fire, the S.S. Noronic fire at Toronto and the Manitoba floods.

The St. John Ambulance Brigade was started in England in the late 19th century as a branch of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem. Though it met with early opposition, it received encouragement from high quarters and at a St. John parade in 1893 the then Prince of Wales put his hand on the shoulder of an ambulance man, turned to the press and said: "Gentlemen, this is a good uniform. I believe much good will come of it."

Today the St. John Ambulance Brigade in its familiar black and white uniform is active throughout the Commonwealth, with over 200,000 members ready to put into practice their ancient Latin motto: "Pro Utilitate Hominum"—"For the Service of Mankind."

GODFREY LATEST VICTIM

Cancer Of Lung Increasing Fast Among Heavy Smokers

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey is the latest victim of the silent viciousness of lung cancer. He has a chance, depending partly upon how early his disease was caught, and how thoroughly surgery banished it.

Lung cancer typically starts and grows silently and hidden with no sign or symptom, no discomfort. There is nothing to be seen, like cancer on the skin, nothing to be felt, like a lump in the breast.

Chronic cough and pain are often the first warnings. And by then, the cancer is often too far advanced to be stopped.

This year, 30,000 American men and 5,000 U.S. women will die of lung cancer. It now is the leading cause of cancer deaths among American men, and it is increasing among women.

FRIGHTENING GROWTH
Lung cancer is killing eight times as many Americans as it did only 20 years ago. Similar ominous increases are occurring in other countries.

Lung cancer bears the curse of "showing the most rapid rise ever reported for a non-infectious disease," in the words of the American Cancer Society.

Excessive cigarette smoking, smoggy air, industrial fumes, viruses, inherited susceptibility—all these are blamed as causes of the tragic trend which makes lung cancer now the killer of almost one of every seven Americans who die of any form of cancer.

Recent studies increasingly indict smoking as a main cause. The American Cancer Society and some other health agencies hold smoking is one principal cause. The tobacco industry insists, however, a definite link has not been proven.

SMOKED CIGARETTES

Godfrey for years was a cigarette smoker, but he gave them up four years ago. A friend said he found he was allergic to inhalation of tobacco smoke. He has since smoked only pipes and cigars but without inhaling.

But millions of other persons who smoke have not developed lung cancer. Some scientists take this and other evidence to doubt that cigarette are a causative factor.

Others say the fact that many smokers escape lung cancer does not invalidate the statistical evidence that smoking contributes heavily to the chances of getting lung cancer. They also point to smoking as contributing to greater chances of earlier death in general, and increased risk of death from heart and circulatory diseases.

Whatever the cause, Godfrey's chances depend upon how localized his lung cancer was. The general outlook in lung cancer is gloomy—only four per cent of persons diagnosed with lung cancer survive for five years. But if the cancer is detected early enough—when still localized and entirely removable—the figure jumps to 31 per cent, or one-third.

Surgery is the main weapon. X-rays sometimes help control the lung cancer.

Since lung cancer is increasing with especially alarming rapidity among men, the cancer society urges men over 40 to seek chest x-rays twice a year, particularly if they smoke.

Let us build a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto heaven.—Genesis 11:4.

Every city builds higher towers from generation to generation. Really, a city approaches the heavens by its morality, its industry, its ideals.

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Canada may be heading for a record tourist year, given a breather from the weather and more spending prompted by economic recovery.

The Royal Tour of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip and the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway are two major attractions expected to contribute.

Advertising programs and tourist facilities have been expanded generally.

A Canadian Press cross-Canada survey shows most areas sharing hopes of an improvement over 1958, when American visitors eased off slightly from the record 1957 total of 28,600,000. Spending by U.S. tourists and those from other foreign countries also dropped by $11,000,000 to $352,000,000, still close to the record 1957 yield of $363,000,000.

RECESSION A FACTOR

Alan Field, director of the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, says 1958 tailed off despite the biggest advance indication of tourist interest ever noted. There was the recession in the United States and bad weather on both sides of the border.

"People didn't feel like holidaying," suggested Mr. Field. "The U.S. needs hot weather to put Americans in the mood and make them start thinking of cool lake country."

The federal tourist agency's emphasis in its advertising campaign has been spread over scenic charms, plus cultural and other attractions. Some key events are the Vancouver Music Festival, the Calgary Stampede, the Stratford Shakespearean Festival and the Gaelic Mod in Cape Breton.

A surge of interest in the Canadian North is indicated by queries received in British Columbia and Alberta, and the St. Lawrence Seaway and the Royal Visit are being "pushed" hard.

"Americans are crazy about reality," says publicity director Gordon Hogarth of Ontario's travel and publicity department. A typical advertisement placed in U.S. publications is pinned on that appraisal and shows the queen's photograph with the caption: "See history in the making."

REVIEW BY PROVINCES

Here's a rundown of tourist industry expectations across the country:

Newfoundland—Revenues of about $12,451,000 last year may increase with the help of an extended moose-hunting season. Hotels and accommodations are being improved to take advantage of scenery, hunting and fishing attractions plus historic sites.

Prince Edward Island—About 150,000 Canadians and Americans visited the little island province last year, spending $7,500,000. Officials say 1959 queries have doubled and that P.E.I. has 20 more listings of tourist accommodations than it had last year.

Nova Scotia—The "best year" of all seems indicated with more money and expectations of a season topping record 1957 statistics.

ties of about 600,000 visitors and a "take" of $17,000,000. Ontario was the main contributor with nearly 19,000 autos—at an estimated 3.25 persons a car—and Massachusetts second at about 15,000 visiting cars. The province has devoted an extra $100,000 to tourist advertising and reports the "greatest burst" yet of motel and hotel construction.

New Brunswick—As many and perhaps more than the 1,200,000 visitors last year are anticipated—split 50-50 between Canadians and Americans. Revenues in 1958 ran between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000. This year, additional picnic and camping sites are available plus 40 new accommodations units. In line with other Maritime provinces, tourist advertising is up.

Quebec—Hopes for 5,000,000 visitors—up from the 195

P-TA Parley Hears Outline Of B.C. Convention Doings

"Points toward action" was the title of an address by Mrs. R. J. Bailey to the regular meeting of the Kelowna Elementary PTA held recently.

The action theme was actually in keeping with the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation convention, a detailed report of which was given by Mrs. Bailey.

Among the many facets of her report was the question raised by L. J. Prior, past president of the B.C. Teachers' Association in his greeting to the convention delegates.

"Are parents as equally concerned with the standards of parents as they are about the standards and qualifications of teachers?"

Should there be a merit rating or a commission looking into parenthood? In Mr. Prior's opinion, "childhood becomes more complex as it progresses into the frustrations of an adult world. No work is of greater worth than being a parent."

Mrs. Bailey reported on the many resolutions taken up at the convention, and spoke of the three main areas of action pinpointed in the address of Mrs. Bert Tupper, president of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation: The education brief presented to the royal commission; the federal board's brief to the government regarding the curriculum of mental health services; and the pamphlet, "It's time to think about dollars and education," prepared by the finance committee summarizing the method of financing education in British Columbia.

READY IN 1960

With regard to the education brief, Mrs. Tupper told convention delegates that it is expected the report of the Chant Commission will be available and made public early in 1960. She said, "We should read it, study it, and try to foster the implementing of the recommendations for change."

Mrs. Arthur Skelton, past president of the Washington Congress of Parents and Teachers, who addressed delegates at the convention banquet, described PTA as "the most vital force for good in our generation."

"We work with other interests: trustees, doctors, teachers' federations, and are interested in the child," she said. She added that in her state there is no field in which PTA is not active—health, youth fitness, recreation, juvenile protection, even to chaperoning high school dances.

"In connection with high school PTA's," she said, "there the need for PTA transcends all other needs in parent-teacher work."

The annual convention of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation will be held next year in Penticton at Easter.

To complete the series of PTA meetings pertaining to the Canadian family study, a University of B.C. extension department film entitled "Who Will Teach Your Child" was shown. It portrayed some phases of the ways in which a child learns, from the time of infancy through to the high school level.

The "buzz session" which followed covered questions emanating from the film, with particular emphasis on the subject "What does the family see as its continuing responsibilities to the school?"

BANDSTERS USE THUMBS BOTH WAYS TO GAIN FESTIVAL AWARD

A matter like being stranded for an hour or so might have been enough to throw some musicians—noted for temperament—for a loss, but that was not the case this week with the Kelowna High School band and orchestra.

Despite a breakdown of one of the three buses at Postill, while en route to the Okanagan music festival at Vernon, the band, though a half-hour late, came through with best marks. Unable to get another bus, the stranded band members joined their cohorts at Vernon by hitch-hiking rides.

Kelowna motorist Gordon Bennett, heading for home from the north, turned around and took a load of band members to Vernon and S. Tahara, on his way from Kelowna to his Winfield home, also took a load to Vernon.

Health Centre's Annex Proving Valuable Asset

Since its opening in January, 1958, the voluntary health services annex to the health unit has proved a valuable asset.

This point was emphasized by both civic officials and health authorities at the annual meeting of the management committee.

Dr. D. A. Clarke, medical health officer, said he felt the additional accommodation allowed the volunteer health organizations to make much better use of the facilities at the centre.

Some of the organizations holding quarterly meetings there have been: Canadian Cancer Society, Red Cross, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, Council of Women, United Nations Organization, both auxiliaries to the Kelowna General Hospital and the auxiliary to the health unit.

Other groups often use the annex for special meetings. They are: CNIB, Eastern Star, Society for Retarded Children, Okanagan Valley medical society, dental assistants, St. John Ambulance Society.

Two organizations—the Community Chest and Red Cross—also have office space in the building.

Funds realized from the rental of the facilities have been used by the committee to purchase new equipment for the centre.

At the annual meeting, the committee realized there was still some confusion as to the proper entrance to the annex, and it was decided to erect suitable direction signs.

The group has also decided to erect a suitable plaque in recognition of the contribution made by the various organizations.

These organizations are: B.C. Division, Canadian Cancer Society; Christmas Seal Committee, B.C. Tuberculosis Society; Kinsmen Polo Fund; Kelowna Branch, Canadian Red Cross; City of Kelowna and the provincial and federal departments of health.

These bodies, by their contributions, helped this city to obtain the first health centre of its type outside the city of Victoria.

Former Prairie Family Bereaved

Pastor C. S. Cooper conducted funeral rites at Rutland's Seventh-day Adventist Church Friday for Mrs. Dorothy Daisy Duncan of Rutland, who died Wednesday in Kelowna General Hospital. She was 68.

Mrs. Duncan was born in London, Eng., and came to Canada with her parents as a young woman, settling in Birtle, Man. Married in 1914, she and her husband moved to LaPorte, Sask., where they took up a homestead and farmed for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan retired to Rutland 15 years ago.

Surviving Mrs. Duncan are: her husband, Alexander; four sons, Herbert, Fred and Harold, all of Kelowna, and Donald in Victoria; two daughters, Mrs. B. (Ann) Murphy and Mrs. J. (Mary) Wilson, both in Ontario. She also leaves one sister in Winnipeg and 14 grandchildren.

After the funeral service, the cortege proceeded to Lakeview Memorial Park for the burial rites.

A short campfire ceremony was held, with Bert Hume, assistant cubmaster, in charge, and the evening closed with the Cub prayer, repeated by Alec Hawkey.

The Scout and Cub mothers, under the leadership of Mrs. Ken Wilson, made this dinner possible. Mrs. M. E. King, Mrs. Tom Robertson, Mrs. Peter Turgoose, Mrs. Walter Hobbs, Mrs. E. Rojem and Mrs. V. Robertson had a great deal of hard work to make the dinner the success it was, and Miss Norma Robertson came down to the hall to help later on.

Rex McKenzie and S. J. Schuck bought, cooked and delivered the meal, which was a tremendous help to the ladies. All concerned were proud that the dinner was such a successful occasion.

South Okanagan Out Of Royal Itinerary

PENTICTON (CP)—The Penticton Board of Trade was told Friday it will not be possible to include Penticton or any part of the South Okanagan Valley in the itinerary of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip this summer.

Deputy provincial secretary L. J. Wallace said in a letter to the board that due to the limited time available, "it has not been possible to include Penticton."

Guisachan Road Resident Dies

Requiem mass, followed by interment at the Kelowna cemetery, took place Friday morning for Mrs. Mary Obermayer, late of Guisachan Road and Aberdeen St. Her death occurred Monday at her home at the age of 43.

Rev. Ian Cooper was the celebrant of the mass at the Church of the Immaculate Conception and also officiated at the graveside rites.

Mrs. Obermayer was just two years out of Austria at the time of her death. She and her husband resided in Revelstoke before coming to Kelowna six months ago. She had been in failing health for about a year.

Besides her husband, George, she leaves two daughters, Edith and Georgina, both at home.

The evening before the funeral, rosary and prayers for the departed were recited at the Kelowna Funeral Directors' chapel.

Local Residents May Trace Their Own Family Tree

Many local residents now have an opportunity to trace their family trees.

The library has been presented with two volumes tracing the descendants of Heinrich Bechthold and George Konrad Reimche, from whose families several local people of German heritage have descended.

Mrs. Muriel Foulkes, local librarian, says of the two books: "They are well done and must have entailed a great deal of time in the making."

Some of the names to be found in the book are: Baumbach, Klausel, Seibel, Wormsbecher, Mastel, Otto, Werner, Radke, Dalk, Reising, Schafer, Roth, Kramer, Reinhold, Schoch, Sattler, Schimke, Suderman, Friesen, Ollenberger, Boese, Huber, Eissler, Wentz, Grose, Conrad and Engel.

THE TOUCH OF LACE

By ALICE ALDEN

Many of the most beautiful evening dresses are made partly or entirely of lace. One such is this creation by Jacques Heim, who uses wide bands of

CARS Planning Education Drive

Ten years ago saw the beginning of systemized treatments for arthritis in B.C. and to celebrate this event the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society will hold an intensive educational drive from May 10 to 16.

CARS never seeks publicity for publicity's sake but the more the society is talked and written about, the more conscious people will be of the existence and power to help them.

Despite the public information program which has been in operation during the past ten years, a surprising number of people regard arthritis as a hopeless disease.

Those who have no connection with it are apathetic, while many of its victims cling to old wives' tales with a superstitious desperation.

With the continuing support of the people of B.C. this society intends to continue the treatment program, and concentrate even more on research to find a cure. This program is worth talking about, writing about and fighting for, it is felt.

May Day Changed By Vernon Ladies

VERNON—Due to the forthcoming track meet to be held this year in Vernon, the Women's Institute has changed the date of the annual May Day to Friday, May 15.

Brenda Brown, grade 6 student at Vernon Elementary School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brown, will be crowned May Queen in Poles Park. Maids of honor will be Linda McDougall and Jane Wilson.

Also taking part in the festivities, will be last year's May Queen, Cheryl Schunter.

Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek's Sister Communist China Vice-President

PEIPING (Reuters)—A beautiful American-educated woman, a non-Communist and sister-in-law of Nationalist Chinese leader Chiang Kai-shek, has risen to the second highest position in Communist China.

She is 68-year-old Madame Soong Ching-ling, a smartly groomed graduate of Wesleyan University of Middletown, Conn., who recently was elected one of the two vice-chairmen of the Chinese People's Republic.

She is the first woman and non-Communist to reach such high state position in mainland China. She served as one of the six vice-chairmen in the first government formed by the Communists when they came to power in 1949.

A short woman whose pale, lined face is framed by jet-black hair combed severely back, Mme. Soong looks much younger than her 68 years.

WIDOW OF SUN YAT-SEN
She once was a member of the Kuomintang (Nationalist) party, but now has no known party affiliations. Although not a Communist, her public pronouncements endorse the party line and recently she wrote an article in the official party newspaper hailing China's achievements under communism and denouncing the Tibetan rebellion.

She is the widow of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, who founded the first Chinese republic in 1911, and sister of Mme. Chiang Kai-shek.

Her father was educated in the United States and after becoming a prosperous businessman on his return to China, he sent his daughter to receive American schooling when she was only 14. After graduating from Wesleyan University she returned to China as a secretary to Sun Yat-sen and married him when she was 23 and he had been forced to flee China to Japan.

An ardent Methodist—she does not profess any religion now—and a lofty idealist on her return from North America, she joined in her husband's revolutionary movement against the Manchu dynasty.

BORN NO CHILDREN
She was widowed only 10 years after her marriage, and there were no children. She then drew away from her family and the Nationalists and preached close collaboration with the Soviet Union and social justice for China's masses.

Later she spent two years in Russia, organized nursing facilities behind the Japanese lines in the Chinese-Japanese war, and has moved up steadily in the state's hierarchy since the Communists came to power in 1949.

The appointment of two vice-chairmen instead of one is a new departure for Peiping. The other vice-chairman is Wang Ping, a 73-year-old veteran Communist who was known for his moderate views in the days when he was a liaison officer with the Nationalists during the Japanese war.

Like Mme. Soong, he is familiar with North American life from the time he spent in San Francisco as China's representative at the 1945 conference which set up the United Nations.

Here's How To Handle Problem Of Child Who Won't Drink Milk

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

Most children and adults don't drink enough milk, a most essential food.

A few children don't consume enough milk because it is not provided for them. Most children, however, have not been educated to enjoy sufficient milk. Those who don't drink milk in childhood will hardly do so when adult.

PROBLEM STARTS EARLY
Usually the pattern of milk intake begins with the tot about the time he begins to eat at the family board. Nobody else at the table may be drinking milk. His interest in other foods tends to reduce his appetite for milk. Besides, parents may talk more about his eating at this time than when he ate alone, or they may fuss with him to drink his milk.

First, get the rest of the family to mind their own business at the dinner table. Discipline yourself not to fuss with the child about his eating. Waste no words. Manage your emotions. Don't let your inside get stirred up about the child's eating.

WHAT TO DO
If, after this tot has been eating with the family for a few weeks, you find him refusing milk, do this: place before his plate at the beginning of dinner a cup or glass with a few table-spoonful of milk in it—nothing else.

Call the milk to his attention. If he chooses to drink it, give him a very small portion of one other essential food, and of more foods later. If he falters or says he doesn't want the milk, don't tell him he must drink it.

OFFER INDUCEMENTS
Tell him what he may have next after he has emptied the cup or glass. If he still indicates he doesn't want the milk, have his meal end regardless of how much he cries.

See that he has no other food except, perhaps, fruit juice until the next regular meal.

DON'T INCREASE MILK
At the next regular meal provide as before. When he chooses to drink the milk be sure not to increase the amount for several more meals, and then only slightly. When he begs for a second helping of milk or any other food he once had rejected, be very stingy.

Don't kid yourself about substitutes or cook more foods containing milk. They won't provide enough milk.

(My bulletin "Eating Problems" may be had by sending a self-addressed, U.S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

ANSWERING PARENTS' QUESTIONS
Q. What should we emphasize in teaching our children, seven and nine, good table manners?

A. A quiet, relaxed mealtime, with all the world shut out and companionable conversation with the whole family taking part.

Capt. William Alcher ordered all hands to abandon the ship as the flood of oil burned fiercely, peeling paint from the sides and sending black plumes of smoke into the air over Vancouver's north shore.

Residents in a half-mile area of West Vancouver were asked to evacuate their homes as the possibility of a tremendous explosion loomed.

A 17-man navy fire-fighting crew, clothed in thick asbestos suits and armed with fire extinguishers, was lowered into the burning hold and engine room. One navy fireman suffered slight burns but was not taken to hospital.

It was 9 p. m. before the fire was brought under control and the Ferngulf was towed into the inner harbor to let her steel hull cool slowly.

Storm Brews Over Victoria Police Hats

VICTORIA (CP) — A storm is brewing here over policemen's helmets—the kind worn by English bobbies but discarded here years ago.

The city's tourist trade group is considering asking the police commission to put policemen back in helmets as a tourist attraction, giving Victoria more Old English "charm."

Said Lorne Shandley, president of the Victoria Police Union, when he heard of the proposal: "Policemen will dress up and act like damn fools if the tourist group will go around in three-cornered hats, knee breeches and wigs."

"Did You Get It Out" — Godfrey After Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur Godfrey was reported in "excellent" condition this morning at the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, where he is recovering from an operation for lung cancer.

A bulletin issued by the hospital said Godfrey's condition "continues to be excellent," adding that he spent "a comfortable night."

The 55-year-old television and radio star was out of bed twice Friday.

In the five-hour operation Thursday, surgeons removed part of Godfrey's left lung. When he got the news Friday that he had cancer, he made no special comment. But he did ask: "Did you get it all out?"

"Yes, we think we did," was the reply.

Robinson Says Sox Are Snooty

TORONTO (CP) — Jackie Robinson, outspoken second baseman who broke baseball's color line, said today he believes Negro ball players are being discriminated against by Boston Red Sox of the American League.

"Every club in both major leagues has Negro players in its lineup except Boston. Sure, they say if they had an Elston Howard or Willie Mays they would play them. But how are they going to know if they don't give one a chance?"

"How do you think the Giants discovered Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Felipe Alou and Willie Kirkland? Why, by giving them a chance to play."

Robinson, here on a business trip, made his remarks in an interview.

He credited Canadian baseball fans with leading the Negro into major league ball. He was farmed to Montreal Royals of the International League in 1946 by the parent Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League.

Winnipeg Braves Give Manitoba First Junior Trophy Since 1947

BRANDON (CP) — Winnipeg goal lead, gave away two goals, then roared back with four unanswered markers in the last two periods.

It was the first cup for a Manitoba league team since Winnipeg Monarchs won in 1946. Ottawa-Hull Canadiens took the championship last year; Flin Flon Bombers in 1957.

Left winger Al Baty, who had only one goal in the first four games, scored three and added an assist Friday night. Don Atamanchuk made his first goal of the series a payoff marker as he scored the winner. Captain Wayne Larkin tallied the other.

Little Gary Darling, most consistent player for the easterners, bagged one goal for the Petes. Wayne Boddy got the second.

Kramer Quits Coaching Staff Of Davis Cup

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Kramer said today he has quit as an aide to the United States Davis Cup coaching staff and advised coach Perry Jones to resign also.

But, said Kramer, the reasons were not the same. "Some people thought it was wrong for a professional like myself who is signing players from both the U.S. and Australian teams, to be so close to one team," Kramer said by telephone from Indianapolis.

"So I told Mr. Jones I would like to back out of the Davis Cup picture. I don't know if he would have asked me again, anyhow. I also tried to convince him that his work was done. He had won back the cup and I felt that to try again would be unwise for his health."

"But I guess I wasn't successful. He'll be back."

Card Of Thanks

ON BEHALF OF MR. AND MRS. Andrew Thut, Dickie's mother and father and myself, I wish to thank the Doctors and Nursing Staff of the Kelowna Hospital and all the school children and people of Kelowna and district who were so kind to Dickie when he needed kindness and attention while so far away from home. Dickie arrived safely at St. Joseph's Hospital (Victoria) at 9:30 on Sunday night, April 26. He is happy to be so near home but misses the boys that were with him in the hospital at Kelowna. Words alone cannot express our thanks.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By ESTRELLITA

FOR TOMORROW

Fine influences stimulate mental pursuits, sociability and written matters. Outdoor activities and travel are also generously aspected, so make your plans accordingly.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates pleasant prospects ahead. You may not achieve any spectacular job change in your status, but you can formulate long-range plans and stabilize your financial situation if you take constructive steps — especially during June, September and December. Avoid speculation, however. To be successful, projects involving money must be sound ones. The same periods will be stimulating for job advancement career matters generally. Ambitions should be lofty then, and you can take the initiative in most matters. But don't force issues.

FINE ASPECTS

Except for brief periods during the current month, and in November personal relationships will be under fine aspects, and travel will be under good influences in early July. For the single, new romance and, for the married, a strengthening of ties are happy prospects for the balance of 1959.

A child born on this day will be endowed with exceptional will power and the perseverance required to reach his goals.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW

Be enthusiastic and ambitious on Monday but, if taking on unfamiliar work, be careful lest you make needless errors — especially in the A.M. It is better to understand your own limitations and succeed than to overreach and fail.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If Monday is your birthday, the ability to grasp situations quickly and adapt yourself to them will stand you in good stead for the balance of 1959. It should be a year of great accomplishments, but you'll have to work things out on a realistic and far-seeing basis. And, to do this, you will have fine planetary help. June and September will be ideal for making plans of long-term value — both from not achieving any spectacular job change in your status, but you can formulate long-range plans and stabilize your financial situation if you take constructive steps — especially during June, September and December. Avoid speculation, however. To be successful, projects involving money must be sound ones. The same periods will be stimulating for job advancement career matters generally. Ambitions should be lofty then, and you can take the initiative in most matters. But don't force issues.

Bears Co-Captain Signs With Argos

TORONTO (CP) — Halfback Jack Hart co-captain of the University of California Gold Bears in 1958, has been signed by Toronto Argonauts for the 1959 Big Four football season, managing director Lew Hayman announced today.

The 184-pound, five-foot — 11-inch backfielder and quarterback Joe Kapp sparked the Bears to the Rose Bowl last season after the club finished in the Pacific coast conference cellar the previous year.

North's jump reverse to three hearts does stretch matters a little bit.

South's four club bid is incomprehensible by ordinary standards, but the explanation offered by South was that it was a cue-bid designed to show control of the suit. Whatever its purpose, and whether or not there is any sense to it, it is clear that North was not bright enough to catch on, judging from his leap to six clubs, which was also somewhat adventurous.

There the matter rested until West doubled. Then the lady sitting South, conscience-stricken by the unpleasant development, essayed six hearts. This belated heart preference did not strike a responsive chord, especially after West doubled again, and North decided to salvage what he could by bidding seven clubs.

East then stepped into the act by doubling, feeling left out of things, what with all the surrounding activity that was going on. South thereupon decided to rescue herself from the impending holocaust as branched into seven spades.

This became the final contract, doubled, and West opened the ace of clubs. Declarer had no trouble at all making 13 tricks, and virtue proved triumphant.

My correspondent informs me that the lady who sat South, and was partnered with her husband, almost invariably wins top score in the group with which she plays regularly. I am waiting for a sample of the bidding style employed by the others in the group.

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

What are the chances of having twins? And what are the chances of both babies surviving? Well, depending upon the age of the mother and many other circumstances, the chances for both children are good.

STATISTICS ON TWINS?

Women in the 35 to 39-age bracket have about 17 sets of twins per 1,000 births. Those under the age of 20 have about six sets of twins per 1,000 births. Occasionally, twins will be born several weeks, even months, apart. Sometimes, one twin is considerably larger and heavier than the other. This apparently is due to the fact that conception is possible until about the 14th week of pregnancy. Thus two conceptions may result.

CHANCES OF SURVIVAL

Moreover, a recent study in Iowa indicates that twins or triplets are more likely to survive if they are born to a woman with previous children than if they are the first-born.

Infant mortality among twins is highest for children born to mothers under the age of 20. It is next highest for those with mothers between the ages of 20 and 24. It is considerably lower for those born to mothers over the age of 25.

GOOD RECORD

Still, we have an excellent record for saving all concerned as far as multiple births are concerned. Nevertheless, if you are expecting a multiple birth, I want to especially emphasize the need for prenatal care. It is particularly important to prevent nutritional deficiencies.

Along with the letter came an explanation of each bid made, and all I can do is repeat the reasons given for the bidding sequence, without seriously attempting either to justify or criticize them.

Maltman Pins Two Opponents

TORONTO (CP) — John Costello of Winnipeg, defending Canadian amateur heavyweight wrestling champion, lost his title Friday night in the Pan-American Games trials.

George Momborg of St. Catharines, Ont., a former Hamilton football player, now Ontario champion, and Claude Clavet of Montreal each defeated Costello.

Momborg scored two wins while Clavet was beaten in another match by Bob Steele of Kitchener, Ont., himself a double

Derby Hopeful Is Scratched

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The field for the 85th running of the Kentucky Derby today was reduced to 17 this morning when trainer Jimmy Jones announced he did not plan to start the Calumet Farms' On-and-On.

Jones made his announcement shortly after sending the Calumet Farm's colt a quarter of a mile.

"It is a tough decision to make but I feel that he is not up to the type of race needed to win the derby," Jones said. "I'll run him today in another event at six furlongs. I plan to officially scratch him sometime before noon."

On-and-On had been Calumet's hope for its eighth derby triumph and its third consecutive victory. Tim Tam won last year and Iron Liege in 1957.

Mounties Win Over Solons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SACRAMENTO (AP) — Leaders of the Pacific Coast League, were beaten 7-3 by the sixth-place Vancouver Mounties Friday night.

Despite the defeat, the Solons managed to keep ahead of San Diego Padres, who split a double-header with Portland Beavers. The Padres lost the first game 8-6, then came back to win the second game 5-2.

In other league games, Salt Lake City Bees whipped Seattle Rainiers twice, 5-2 and 2-1, and Phoenix Giants defeated Spokane Indians 14-8.

Patterson Gets "Warmup"; Ready For Next Opponent

By MURRAY ROSE
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — World champion Floyd Patterson, boxing said he wanted a "warmup" title fight.

Friday night in chopping down year-old champ could pull the string any time he wanted in the scheduled 15 - rounder. Floyd pulled it at 51 seconds of the 11th with a jolting left hook to the jaw that sent the burly, 24-year-old Briton on his seat and then on his side for the count.

Stan Leonard Well Down In Golf Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Broad-shouldered Lionel Hebert set out today with a couple of par 70s in mind as he sought first money in the $27,300 Colonial Invitation golf tournament.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver was two over par and in a five-way tie for 21st place. His rounds of 75 and 72 gave him a halfway total of 147.

The Frenchman from Lafayette, La., leading at the 36-hole mark with a record-tying 134, said he figured two 70s would take the title.

Hebert fired his second three-under-par 67 Friday to increase his lead to two strokes. He thought it was the better of the rounds since there was a high wind to combat.

The 134 tied the record for 36 holes in this tournament. Ben Hogan set it in 1946 and it was equalled by Chandler Harper in 1955 and by Mike Souchak in 1956.

Hogan was back in the groove Friday and was chasing Hebert in his dash toward one of his biggest purses — Colonial's $5,000 first money. Little Ben had a 67 and was in second place with 139.

Hogan was one stroke away from Hebert at the 18th green. But Hebert ran down a 40-foot putt.

Whether Patterson was stretching it out or fighting it out as best he could, the whole thing served to boost the spirits of Patterson's next challenger, Ingemar Johansson.

"I think I have a good chance of being the next heavyweight champion," said the undefeated Swede. Johansson, European champion, meets Patterson at New York's Yankee Stadium June 25.

TOOK IT EASY
"Patterson was taking it easy," Johansson said. "If he went out from the start and got down to business, he could have put him out any time."

For a time it appeared Patterson might blast out the 10-to-1 longshot early. The fast-punching, 182½-pound New Yorker rocked his 208-pound rival in the first two rounds and then eased up. After that he beat a steady tattoo to the body of his game but powerless foe. In the eighth he shook up London but it wasn't until the 10th that he finally floored the six-foot challenger.

A right to the jaw dazed Brian and he stiffened for a moment. Then he slumped against the ropes until a left-right dropped him on one knee. He was still in that position when the bell sounded at the count of five.

The end obviously was in sight and Floyd wasted no time in getting the kill. A barrage of searing body blows set up the lead from Blackpool for the curtain.

FUTILE OFFENCE
London had practically no offence. Mostly he jabbed with his left and most of his shots fell 9-0 (one even), and judge Marshall Baumgartner's tally showed 49-40 and 8-1-1. The Associated Press card had it 50-39 in points and 9-0 in rounds with the third even.

"If I didn't work on his body I never would have got him at all," said the unmarked champion. "I noticed he was in pain from my body punching to his right side as early as the fifth round. But he was tough and game."

"Johansson is the No. 1 contender and I'll have to be better against him. I will be."

London was not deeply disappointed.

"I'm coming back to the United States and learn to fight," he said, nursing a cut under his right eye.

GOOD PAY NIGHT.
London collected a handsome $60,000—$4,000 more than he had earned previously in his entire career. Patterson earned $188,000. It boosted his ring earnings for 6½ years to $1,190,000. He'll be good for another $500,000 or so against Johansson.

Referee Frank Sikora, imported from Chicago for Indian's first world boxing championship, had it 50-34 in points and 10-0 in rounds for Patterson. Judge Kelse McClure scored it 50-40 and 9-0 (one even), and judge Marshall Baumgartner's tally showed 49-40 and 8-1-1. The Associated Press card had it 50-39 in points and 9-0 in rounds with the third even.

The crowd of 10,088 paid a gross gate of $122,885. Television and radio fees added $200,000.

It was Patterson's 22nd straight victory for a 35-1 record and his 16th knockout in his last 17 fights. London's record is 22-5.

Guerra and two members of the executive of the Havana Cuban Sugar Kings baseball team of the International League attended Wednesday night's Allan Cup hockey game.

The Indianapolis Recorder says Patterson was refused service when he stopped in a cafe during a walk and asked for ice cream. It quoted him as saying he did not identify himself because he didn't want to go into a place where other Negroes can't go.

Fish And Game Clubs Uphold Gov't's Policy

PENTICTON (CP) — After hearing a spirited address by recreation minister Westwood, delegates to the B.C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs convention Friday defeated a motion criticizing the provincial government's recreation and hunting policy.

The resolution, proposed by Kimberley Rod and Gun Club, went down to a resounding defeat soon after the minister had spoken. Deputy minister David Turner earlier spoke in support of the government.

The convention passed a resolution proposed by Terrace Rod and Gun Club calling for a ban on sale of hunting, fishing or trapping rights by landowners. Opponents of the resolution had said that it threatened existing good relations between owners and sportsmen.

The resolution, said by its supporters to be in line with Alberta regulations, originally contained two other proposals restricting owners of hunting and fishing rights.

These were that owners or occupants of land who post, "no hunting" signs should themselves be banned for hunting and that any person may enter private land in order to pursue wounded game. They were withdrawn in the face of heavy opposition.

In his keynote speech to the convention, Mr. Westwood said his department had been falsely accused of reducing its budget and staff.
